

DC Modern Luxury February 2007

"THE FIRST PLACE I WOULD HAVE REAL PLASTIC SURGERY WOULD BE MY ANKLES. DON'T GET ME WRONG: I DON'T HAVE CANKLES. BUT I LOOK AT MY MOM'S ANKLES AND THEY ARE AS SMALL AS HER WRISTS. I WANT THAT."

THE SKIN SAVER

Not comfortable in your skin? Ada Polla Tray can't relate. She's got beauty bravado born of growing up in the 'biz. The 29-year-old Swiss miss's parents are rock-star doctors with a medical spa in Geneva, but here it's Ada's name everyone knows as CEO of cosmeceutical company Alchimie Forever.

Clockwise from top left: Ada Polla Tray at Hela Spa, 3209 M St., NW, 202.333.4445, www.helaspa.com, where Alchimie Forever products are sold. Guerlain's Jicky, $83, at Neiman Marcus. The Argyle Salon and Spa in LA, www.argylela.com. Her favorite red is NARS Dragon Girl lip pencil, $24, at bluemercury.com. Jane Iredale's 24-Karat Gold Dust, $12, at Radiancemedspa.com, 301.652.4772, www.radiancemd.com.

Most Botox shots in a day: 15. I have my dad do it for me in Geneva. Ugly day fix: If all else fails, gold glitter. I have a pot from Jane Iredale and I put it on my hair, eyelids, décolletage. Biggest beauty disaster: I let my boyfriend dye my hair. I was going to propose and thought if I could trust him with my hair, I could trust him to be married to. The color was horrible. The marriage is great. Desert island product: My eye contour cream Superpulse. Priciest haircut: $350, at the Argyle Salon and Spa in LA. And it was my best cut ever.