Blueberry Wedding Glow

I'm getting married in Novemer and people say I have a glow about me. I've lost 10 pounds and I am feeling really good inside and out. But love isn't the only reason why I've got the wattage going on, because I'm actually getting a little help on the side with the Kantic Mask by Alchimie Forever.

From the second I opened the jar I knew that this was something special. It contains blueberries, wild pansies, oats, grapes and vitamin E. It smells yummy and it immediately makes your skin feel calm and nourished. Leave it on for 15-20 minutes, rinse and welcome a new you.

This is now part of my pre-wedding skincare regime! Check out <http://www.alchimie-forever.com/en/product/5> to order the mask and to also see the entire line.
