Alchimie Forever: Ada Polla

The daughter of a dermatologist and European leader in cosmetics laser therapy (her dad) and a biomedical researcher on antioxidants and a specialist in cellular aging (her mom), Polla might have become a doctor. Instead, she went to business school and upon graduating with an MBA, co-created—along with her parents—Alchimie Forever, an anti-aging skincare routine that harnesses the preventive and healing powers of antioxidants.

Alchimie Forever Kantic Lights Off Calming Evening Cream

This mid-weight, antioxidant-laced moisturizer promises to boost the benefits of the hours you spend supine by nourishing, renewing and brightening the skin while you catch your Zzzzs, $71.
